

Saturday 7th October Scientific Programme

8:00 Registration opens

8:45 Keynote Address

Using modern microscopy to image movement of viruses within and between cells - Professor Geoffrey Smith

9:30 New Voices

Endoscopic Pituitary Surgery – Imi Ridley

Bang for no Bucks – Tomas Tyner

The best choice of equipment for intra-oral photography: current practice vs the gold standard – Laura Marcato

The Orthoracle Project: Is the Customer Always Right? – Laura Jackman

10:45 Conversation Café session

More information to follow

12:00 Lunch

13:00 Plenary Session

Data Protection

Mark Thomas. Nottingham Trent University Law School.

Lisa Fisher. Medical Illustration Manager, James Cook University Hospital, Middlesbrough.

Catherine Russell. Medical Image Management System Administrator, James Cook University Hospital, Middlesbrough.

Ivy Clarkson. Patient with an interest.

14:50 Concurrent Sessions

From BCH to RCH – Stephanie Scrivens

Medical Photography in Norway: A profession on sick bed? – Bard Kjersem

Teledermatology - skin lesion 'triage' service provision – David Bishop

Filming & Photography for the Addenbrooke's abroad volunteer project in Yangon Myanmar – Mel Yeneralski

Roman Vishniac: The Curious Microscopist – Norman Barker

Analysis and viability of a Modified GoPro HERO 5 for Surgical Videography – Tim Zoltie

Colour management for a clinical workflow – Simon Brown

A web-based application to manage graphics workflow – Kathy McFall

Wands at the ready... – Jackie Love

17:15 Close of Programme
18:30	Conference photograph
18:45	Drinks reception
19:15	Banquet and presentation of awards